History

Originating in the Tibetan Plateau, in the vicinity of Lake Mansarovar, River Indus runs through the Ladakh region of Jammu & Kashmir. It flows towards Gilgit and Baltistan, and then towards the south, through the entire length of Pakistan. Eventually, it merges with the Arabian Sea near the port city of Karachi in Sindh, spanning a distance of 3,180 kilometres.

India derives its name from the Sanskrit word 'Sindhu.' The ancient name for River Indus. In January 2002, on the banks of River Indus at Leh, Lt. General Arjun Ray, PVSM, VSM(Retd.), visionary par excellence, drafted the vision of an IB school that would import holistic education. It was a vision as encompassing and nurturing as River Indus itself. With his foresight and conviction on the universalism of human values.

Indus Altum International School is ideated on a collaborative partnership between Indus International Schools and Altum Trust based on the ethos of 'In Omnia Paratus - Prepared for All Challenges'.
